

Throw Back Thursday - Barn

The first known owner of this property, 487 Enfield Center Road, was Orsemus Wortman 1853. This was part of a 100 acre owned farm. The farm was bought in 1918 by John Warren Laughlin, head of Kahn Meats in New York City, for his parents William and Ida Laughlin. This barn, picture taken in the 1920's, was located at the back of the property (485 Enfield Center Road) and burned down, no date known. We invite readers to share their memories of the this farm, send e-mail to historian@townofenfield.org.
